The Reason for It.
"Here's a story," said Mrs. Nagget, looking up from her paper, "of a man who begged the judge to send him to jail in place of his wife."

"Ha!" exclaimed Mr. Nagget, "and yet you say we men never sacrifice ourselves for—"

"Wait a minute. This woman stole some clothes she was given to wash. You see, she couldn't take in washing while she was in jail, and so he would have had to work."—Philadelphia Press.

"Prisoner," said the magistrate, severely, "you are charged with being a millionaire. How did you happen to fall?"

"Your honor," replied the trembling man at the bar, "in a moment of weakness I made a book on the races."

"You're not incurable," rejoined the magistrate, who at heart was not unkind. "Go and reform by playing the book of some other fellow. Dismissed."

IRISHMEN UNITE TO MAKE
EXHIBITION A SUCCESS

Promoters Avoid Contention, and With Ample Funds are Making Rapid Progress.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—Great enthusiasm has been aroused in Ireland by the support which is being given to the International Exhibition of 1907. Not only are Irishmen of all classes united to make it a success, but foreign countries are also sending exhibits to help in celebrating the great industrial revival which the exposition represents. Speaking of the progress of the undertaking, Mr. James Shanks, the Chief Executive Officer, says:

"The exhibition is supported by manufacturers, merchants and traders all over the country. It has a sound financial basis, with a guarantee fund of $800,000, signed by nearly 1,000 subscribers, and on that security the Bank of Ireland has agreed to advance funds amply sufficient for the purposes of the exhibition."

No previous exhibition in Ireland has had so much money behind it and nothing of equal extent was ever projected in this country. Nearly 75 per cent of the guarantee fund has been subscribed in Ireland, over 60 per cent of the entire space area available has been applied for by Irish manufacturers and merchants of all creeds and politics have shown their willingness to undertake this arduous public service, and when they have acted throughout on the mandate imposed upon them by the great meeting at which the exhibition was launched. It is their manifest duty to carry to completion on the original lines this great project of purely commercial and industrial importance. If there are any who are in favor of an exclusively 'National' exhibition they are quite free to pursue that object.

The executive committee of the International Exhibition have steadily and persistently persevered with the project publicly entrusted to them and have been most careful not to provoke censure or hostility. They have been supported in their action by constitutional Nationalists as well as by Unionists, and they believe that in bringing the exhibition to the successful conclusion now assured they will have done much to assert the power of rational public opinion in Ireland."
